CNC's Haiphong China Express Becomes The First Ever Container Ship Service To Call At Nghi Son International General Port In Vietnam

VIETNAM, 8 May 2019: CNC, the intra-Asia specialist brand of the CMA CGM Group, is pleased to announce its Haiphong China Express (HCX) service today became the first container ship service to call at the Nghi Son International General Port in the Thanh Hoa Province of Vietnam.

With weekly calls at the Nghi Son International General Port, CNC will offer alternatives to road transportation, thereby helping its Vietnamese customers become more competitive in the global markets and reduce their carbon footprint. This is an essential part of the CMA CGM Group's commitment to provide the best connectivity and the most efficient transportation solutions to keep connecting Vietnam and the world.

The Nghi Son International General Port sits in the Nghi Son Economic Zone, which has attracted substantial large-scale investments. Businesses in refinery, ship building, limestone, resins, footwear and garments are among the industries that have been set up in the zone. As Vietnam further expands the Nghi Son Economic Zone, CNC will seek to play an instrumental role in developing Thanh Hóa's maritime routes through the Nghi Son International General Port.

The HCX service stands as the only container ship offering in the market with a Nghi Son port call. Each week, the service calls at the ports of Hong Kong, Nansha, Haiphong, Nghi Son and Zhanjiang.

From the trans-shipment hubs of Hong Kong and Nansha in South China, Vietnamese exporters can be connected to more Intra-Asia markets such as Japan, Korea and Singapore, as well as farther destinations such as North America, the Middle East and Europe via the extensive global network of APL and the CMA CGM Group.

Currently, 28 CNC services call the ports of Ho Chi Minh City, Haiphong, Da Nang, Chu Lai, Quy Nhon and Nghi Son across Vietnam.
